A Place for All People

The artifacts and images featured on the posters represent a small sampling of what is on display at the National Museum of African American History and Culture since it opened on September 24, 2016.

The HV MLK Day Committee encourages you to delve deep into the historic importance of this poster exhibit and suggests that you watch the video “A People’s Journey, A Nation’s Story” (<https://nmaahc.si.edu/>) during your walk-through or thereafter.

Choosing To Participate

“Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful committed citizens can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.”

Margaret Mead (1901-1978), Anthropologist

The Choosing to Participate posters were created by Facing History and Ourselves and the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service to encourage dialogue, engagement, respect, and participation in our families and communities.
